

ALLIES WILL LET TURKEY RETURN TO EUROPE

UNANIMOUSLY AGREE AT CONFERENCE ON NATIONALIST TERMS

Turkish Claims to Eastern Thrace and the Ancient Capitol of Adrianople are Conceded—Peace Conference is to Be Held at Venice at the Earliest Possible Date

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The return of Turkey to Europe was assured tonight when Great Britain, France and Italy at the final session of the allied conference unanimously agreed to concede all the nationalist peace terms. The Turkish claims to eastern Thrace, to the Maritza river and including the ancient Turkish capital of Adrianople were approved as peace terms that can be supported by France, Great Britain, and Italy in a joint invitation sent to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Nationalist leader, to a peace conference to be held at Venice at the earliest possible date.

The Kemalists must agree in return not to enter the present neutral zone along the straits, nor make any crossing elsewhere, and must accept complete freedom of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus, preferably under the league of nations. The invitation urges an immediate meeting of the allies and Turkish and Greek generals at Mudiana to formulate terms of an armistice pending the conference.

It is regarded as virtually certain that Kemal will accept the conditions and a reply is expected from Smyrna in a day or two.

FINAL REPORT OF GRAND JURY MADE ON HERRIN RIOT

Officials of City, County and State Censured in Report

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Sept. 23.—The special grand jury investigating the 22 killings at the Lester strip mine June 21 and 22, today returned 152 additional indictments bringing the total to 214 and in a partial report censured the state administration, Adjutant General Black, Sheriff Melvin Thaxton of Williamson county, and "local police."

The jury, after making its report, recessed until October 23.

The report declared the state administration undoubtedly realized the acute situation at Herrin and asserted the adjutant general's office and the sheriff alternated in passing responsibility with neither taking decisive action to prevent disorders and protect property.

"The atrocities and cruelties of the murders," the report emphasized, "are beyond the power of words to describe. A mob is always cowardly but the savagery in its relentless brutality is almost unbelievable. The indignities heaped upon the dead did not end until their bodies were interred in unknown graves."

The jury returned 44 indictments for murder, 53 for conspiracy to commit murder, 53 for rioting and 54 for assault to murder.

Blame Lewis Telegram

The report stated a telegram from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was one of the causes of the riot. The telegram was to State Senator William Sneed, a district president of the miners' union, and declared the union men are justified in treating this crowd as an outlaw organization and in viewing its members in the same light as they do any other common strike breakers.

This telegram was posted at various places, the report declared shortly thereafter the strip mine was attacked after hardware stores had been rifled for fire arms and weapons.

"The weapons were either taken by force or upon the verbal assurance that the local would pay for them," the report amplified.

Among those indicted today were Hugh Willis, district board member of the Illinois Mine Workers, charged with murder and assault to commit murder, and W. H. Davis, secretary of sub-district No. 10 of the miners' union, charged with murder.

The report directed attention to the fact that Sheriff Thaxton is a member of the miners' union and also is a candidate for county treasurer and that either because of loyalty to the union or from fear of injuring his candidacy the

INJUNCTION OF GOVERNMENT IS UPHELD BY COURT

Judge Wilkerson Sustains Government's Plea for Same

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Holding the railway shopmen's strike a conspiracy in restraint of trade in interference of interstate commerce and carriage of the mails because "where minds meet together on such a purpose a conspiracy exists without a word being spoken," Judge James H. Wilkerson in federal district court today sustained the government's plea for a countrywide temporary injunction against striking railroad crafts.

The decision was hailed as one of the most significant for law and order ever read into the records of the judiciary by Attorney General Daugherty and Assistant Attorney General McLaughlin who presented the government's case against the shopmen. Donald R. Richberg, of counsel for the shopmen, said he would take an appeal at once from the ruling.

While the decision was interpreted as holding in effect that the strikers were accountable for acts of violence whether these acts were committed by the strikers or not, its exact form will be argued before Judge Wilkerson Monday pending which he continued in effect the present restraining order. The restraining order prohibits the shopmen and the injunction is expected to prohibit them from:

Acts Prohibited

Interfering with operation, repairs and employment on the roads.

Conspiring to interfere.

Loitering or trespassing on railway property.

Attempting to induce road employees to quit or to prevent persons from seeking employment with the roads.

Picketing.

Harming employees or would-be employees or visiting their homes.

Hindering transportation.

Encouraging or directing employees (union members or others) to stop work or others to refrain from seeking work.

Issuing instructions or public statements which might have the above effect.

Using union funds for purposes to be enjoined as above.

In a statement tonight Mr. Richberg said he interpreted the decision as a death blow to all big power because it will make them powerless nationally if it is upheld by the higher courts.

"The decision as I interpret it means that the unions will be liable for any unlawful act committed in connection with a union strike regardless of who commits it," he said.

"That means that there can be no national strikes. When there is a national strike with thousands of men involved there are bound to be some acts which technically would be in violation of the injunction. Since the unions would be held responsible for these acts they could not call a strike without eventually having all their leaders in jail."

SIX OCCUPANTS OF MARTIN BOMBING PLANE ARE KILLED

Machine Takes Nose Dive and Burns When it Strikes Ground

(By The Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Six occupants of a Martin bombing plane were killed tonight at Mitchell Field, when the machine fell in a nose dive following war maneuvers for the instruction of reserve and regular army officers.

The plane, piloted by First Lieutenant Raymond E. Davis, U. S. Army, burst into flames on striking the ground. It was a twin motor bomber, the heaviest machine at the field and had participated in an aerial attack on theoretical fortifications.

After the war maneuvers, and the judges had decided the raiders had won, the airman engaged in a flying circus illuminated by huge searchlights and cheered by thousands of persons who had gathered from all parts of Long Island and New York City to watch the military spectacle.

After the flying circus, a number of the aviators took up passengers, selected principally from among the 300 reserve officers from the second corps area for whose benefit the mimic warfare had been waged.

Owing to the fierceness of the flames which enveloped the huge bomber, it was impossible to learn immediately the names of the five passengers whom Lieutenant Davis had taken up.

TWO ARMY OFFICERS PLUNGE TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 23.—Before a crowd of 10,000 persons, Lieutenants Herbert W. Hansen and John M. Patton, Jr., of the Juvenile aviation station, marine corps plunged to death in an airplane at Lohan Field, Dundalk.

The accident came a few minutes before the scheduled conclusion of a balloon sniping contest. The victims of the crash had taken off only about two minutes earlier, had brought down one balloon and were starting to circle for another.

The cause of the accident probably never will be known. Most of the fliers attributed it to a stalled engine. The machine was only about 100 feet in the air but fell with terrific speed. Both men had seen war service in the marine corps. Lieutenant Patton lived at Pasadena, Calif. Lieutenant Hansen's home was at Church's Ferry, North Dakota.

CHILD'S PATERNITY MAY BE SETTLED BY USE OF BLOOD TEST

Tiernan Admits He Has Been Corresponding With Dr. Abrams

(By The Associated Press)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 23.—Will the blood test to determine the parentage of the ten months old son of Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, wife of Professor John P. Tiernan, of the law faculty of the University of Notre Dame who charges Harry Poulis, campus hardbasher is the infant's father, be carried out now that the Tiernan family has announced a reconciliation?

That was the question asked most frequently by the court, which is hearing the paternity case took a half holiday and recessed at noon without the defense having completed its testimony. The hearing is to be resumed Monday and it is expected the defendant in the case Harry Poulis will take the stand in his own defense.

The fact that Professor Tiernan had opened negotiations some time ago with Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco who claims he has evolved a system whereby he can establish the parentage of infant thru laboratory blood tests was disclosed thru a statement given out in San Francisco by Dr. Abrams' office to the effect that the physician had departed for Chicago and may be called in the case here.

Professor Tiernan admitted he had been in correspondence with Dr. Abrams concerning the making of blood tests in the case of Mrs. Tiernan's youngest child.

"Intimations that Professor and Mrs. Tiernan had effected a reconciliation led to inquiries and Professor Tiernan announced that "it is probable that we will forget the past and begin life over again."

Early in the week Mrs. Tiernan was the recipient of a large bouquet of roses. The flowers were without a card but a canvass of floral shops made by a newspaperman developed that Professor Tiernan had ordered them.

Speculation as to when the case will draw to a close is equalled by the interest shown in what future step may be taken. As a matter of law, it is known that either side has the right to take an appeal if not satisfied with the ruling handed down by Judge C. L. Ducomb. Neither side will admit it is considering an appeal at present fearing such an admission might jeopardize its chance of gaining a verdict before Judge Ducomb.

FIRE AT ATLANTA, GEORGIA CAUSES $1,000,000 LOSS

Fire Started in Building Occupied by Kresge Five and Ten Cent Store

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—Fire which started shortly before midnight, had cut a wide hole in the center of the downtown business block surrounded by White Hall, Alabama and the Western and Atlantic railroad yards and was still burning at 1:30 a. m. (Sunday) with every piece of fire fighting apparatus to bring the flames under control.

With the flames almost completely surrounded, firemen were having difficulty in getting at it and the blaze was jumping high into the air, with a moderate wind blowing toward the north-west and heavy sparks flying toward other buildings in that direction. Thirty minutes after the fire was discovered it had practically wiped out a building occupied by the Kresge five and ten cent store and had spread to the Childs hotel. The McClure building next door was also burning, but slowly, an automatic sprinkler system holding the fire in check in this structure.

Lieutenant Robert Wagner, of the police force stated that what appeared to be an explosion started the fire in the second floor of the Kresge store. One hour after the fire started police officials stated it already had caused damage estimated at half a million dollars.

Later the flames had spread completely thru Eisman's building and still were beyond control.

Early this morning the damage was estimated at between $700,000 and $1,000,000 by Robert Wagner, lieutenant of police.

When flames cut thru the rear of the Eisman Clothing Store building to the Childs Hotel, a fireman fighting the blaze from a position on the roof of that structure was seen by spectators to have been trapped. Efforts were being made to rescue him.

TELLS PEOPLE TO NOT BUY COAL IN ANY GREAT AMOUNT

Coal Prices are Tumbling is Opinion of Henry Ford

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 23.—Henry Ford, in a newspaper interview today advised the people of the country to "buy as little coal as possible now," declaring "coal prices are tumbling."

Mr. Ford granted the interview shortly after his return from southern Ohio, where he arranged for an uninterrupted movement of coal to his Detroit industries.

"Tell the people of the whole world if you can," Mr. Ford said to his interviewer, "that if they would save money they should not buy coal in any great amount now."

Mr. Ford, with his son Edsel, president of the Ford Motor company, spent three days along the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad, the manufacturer's property and saw hundreds of thousands of tons of coal moving northward, he said. They arranged for an ample supply of fuel for the Ford plants for the next sixty days, he announced.

"There is enough coal above ground to run the country for a long time," Mr. Ford said. "The high prices were made because the supply was held back from the market. But the price is falling rapidly. We bought 500 cars of coal in Toledo for $5 a ton. That, of course, includes the freight rate from the mines to Toledo. At Cincinnati Edsel arranged for a sixty days supply of coal for approximately $3 a ton at the mines. And that is $2 a ton less than what the brokers paid for it. The brokers have held their coal so long that their profits have been wiped out and now they must unload at any price. Before spring comes you'll see coal sell for a good deal below $3 a ton."

Asked his opinion regarding the anthracite situation, Mr. Ford said:

"We saw a good deal of that moving north too. The price of that will be falling pretty quick—at least it ought to. The newspapers should keep everlastingly writing about it to see that the fall in price at the mine is passed on by the broker and retailer in order that the home owner and his family may get the benefit of it."

METHOD OF HANDLING STATE MONEY HINGES ON ACCOUNTING SUITS

Attorneys in Cases Brought Against Former State Treasurers Agree That Ruling Will Decide Mooted Question—Arguments in Cases Completed at Carrollton Saturday

(By The Associated Press)
CARROLLTON, Ill., Sept. 23.—The method of handling millions of dollars of state money and hundreds of thousands of interest on state funds in the future hinges upon decision of points raised by counsel for defense in the suits brought for an accounting of interest money against Governor Small, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and State Auditor Russell, according to attorneys in the case.

Arguments on demurrers to the complaint which have continued for two days before Judge Norman L. Jones here, were completed today.

Judge Jones gave the defense attorneys ten days in which to file briefs and allowed the state five days after they receive the defense brief in which to submit answer. It will be perhaps three weeks before he renders his decision, he indicated.

Both Lawrence Y. Sherman, who led the arguments for the defense and Clarence N. Boord, representing the attorney general, agreed this case would settle the hitherto mooted question of whether the state treasurer is bound to put the public funds out at interest.

Replying today to the heavy legal batteries of the defense loosed yesterday, Mr. Boord denied the contention that the state treasurer is a common law officer and therefore cannot be compelled to place the state funds out at interest. He delved into the history of English common law equally as far back as Senator Sherman went yesterday to show that there was no common law treasurer and that the office was created by statute.

Mr. Boord denied that the state was attempting to deprive the defendants of a jury trial, declaring suit for an accounting was the only way to compel the former treasurers to bring into court the records of their office. He charged that many of these records had been either hidden or destroyed, and that the only way open was to have a court of equity force the defendants to bring them forth.

State treasurers may pocket enormous sums, he maintained, if contentions of the defense are upheld adding that interest on state funds during the present administration will amount to almost one million dollars.

Small, Sterling and Russell will be liable to retain hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest money, which he charged they were withholding even now from the state.

In rebuttal for the defense, Senator Sherman characterized the bill as an "amphibious" document which goes "fishing about everywhere for whatever it can find."

He said it was an "unharmonious medley of inharmonious suspicion," because it confused various causes of action in one bill. Questions which Judge Jones puts to counsel in the course of arguments indicated he would decide the demurrers on the question of the 1908 statute's validity attorneys said.

UP TO STATES TO REGULATE PRICES CHARGED FOR COAL

Declaration Made by Federal Fuel Distributor Spens

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The major responsibility for the price at which coal is sold to consumers by the wholesalers or retailers within the states must rest with the state authorities, Federal Fuel Distributor Spens declared tonight in a telegram to governors of the states.

"The federal government, he informed them, can exert its influence on distribution and restrain extortion only so far as concerns coal that may be transported from one state to another.

"It has," he said, "no jurisdiction as to coal produced and sold within the state of its production; retail or wholesale margins or handling coal within these states. Responsibility as to these features must rest with the state authorities and if profiteering in coal is to be prevented, except as to coal that may be moved across state lines at extortionate prices the proper remedy must be applied by the state authorities."

Upon the federal authorities, he explained, laid the duty of determining in which part of the country there is a shortage of coal where coal is to be distributed, the prices usually charged for such coal and whether current prices, considering the costs of production and distribution are just and reasonable and what consumers should receive priority in transportation.

It appears necessary, he asserted, that state organizations be created where they do not exist, which will invite co-operation in meeting the emergency and will if reasonable margins for retailers and wholesalers.

The fuel organization, Mr. Spens announced, is to have the aid of two special advisory committees named from the general business and the transportation interests. Coal production capacity, he declared, exceeds transportation capacity and the main problem before the country is transportation, so that every effort will be made to persuade consumers to limit their coal purchases to their consumption necessities to avoid closing the railroads with fuel intended for stocks for at least sixty or ninety days.

Field organizations of the fuel distributor will be announced next week, when it is expected that regional committees will be named.

A THOUGHT

Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do His good pleasure.—Philippians, 2:12-13.

He that knows and knows not what he knows is asleep; arouse him. He that knows not and is good; teach him. He that knows not and is stupid; shame him. He that knows and knows that he knows is wise; follow him.—Arabian proverb.

A Jacksonville woman recently advertised a house for rent and in a days time received by phone and mail one hundred and twenty-seven inquiries. It is evidence were needed of the demand for houses in this city this instance affords it.

The governments contentions in the railroad strike injunction were sustained for the most part by Judge Wilkerson in his decision announced Saturday. The finding did not come as a surprise for it would have been a strange thing to have a federal judge overrule the governments effort thru its legal department to put an end to interference with transportation.

Prices paid for city property at a public auction sale Saturday reveal confidence in local realty values. The spirited bidding also indicated that people know something about the difference between the cost of new houses and buying those that have been in use for a few years.

During the past three years twenty-four and one half miles of concrete sidewalks have been laid in Jacksonville. The average citizen if asked to guess about the mileage would put the figures at half that amount but the betterments have been so steadily made that the fine total mentioned has been reached. The record is only one evidence of the substantial advances that Jacksonville has been and is making.

When you take into account that the Jacksonville high school attendance has increased 100 per cent in five or six years time it is apparent that the men who planned the new high school building sensed in a very practical way the increase that would come in attendance and the greater interest in high school education.

ONE GOOD TERM DESERVES ANOTHER

In the coming fall election the Republican candidate for county clerk is George L. Riggs, the present incumbent. Mr. Riggs is now serving in his fourth year and those persons who have come in contact with the office are aware that it has been given his earnest attention and that the duties of the office have been well met.

There are various departments in a county clerk's office several of which touch people in an intimate way. Tax work has a large part in office affairs and there are other things in each year's program to attest the importance of the office. It has been Mr.

Riggs' ideal to extend courtesy to every person who visits the office and to transact the business from day to day with an efficiency that will merit public approval.

The record of the four years deserves the verdict of "well done," and so Mr. Riggs has the advantage in his campaign for re-election of promising the people that if given their support at the polls that he will serve them well again.

On the basis of this good record it is reasonable to expect that the general custom of according second terms to efficient county clerks will be followed in Mr. Riggs' case.

PRESTO

Rainmaker Hatfield is the talk of Italy. They had a five month drought over there. Italian government sent an S. O. S. for Hatfield, reputed to have made the heavens open and pour down heavy rains in various parts of our country and Canada.

Hatfield set up his rigging near Naples, Presto! Comes a young cloudburst.

It used to be—maybe, still is—a military saying that the thunder of cannon precipitates heavy rains.

Albert Stiger, the Austrian, probably had this in mind back in 1806 when he invented the small cannon that is used to stave off and break up hailstorms.

Prof. D. W. Hering, writing in the Scientific Monthly, says he has investigated all kinds of "artificial weather control" and that he is convinced Stiger's method really works.

The cannon theoretically break up the clouds.

Rainmaker Hatfield's method is kept secret. He was offered and won $4000 an inch for making it rain at Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada. And now he will bring a big roll back from Italy.

Scientists of the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh are experimenting to prevent frogs. Laboratory results are encouraging, so the method will be tried out on rivers.

The method? It's simple. Spray the river's surface with a chemical that will prevent insects from rising and condensing into fogs.

Dr. Hering in his scientific article says that weather control by artificial means is not regarded as unscientific, and that meteorologists are not hopeless of accomplishing it.

C. F. Marvin of the United States Weather Bureau, steps in, however, and warns farmers against swindlers in the guise of weather wizards. A large crop of these fakers is sprouting up, claiming to make rain, stop rain, prevent frost, regulate heat and cold and charm the winds.

Some of them may be practicable. But farmers should remember that the genuine thing always has its counterfeiters.

The opening exercises of the college were held on Wednesday, Sept.
20th. Madam Colard, soprano, recent addition to the faculty, sang two charming songs, which were received most enthusiastically.

An interesting meeting of the music faculty was held on Wednesday evening. Director Pearson spoke of the encouraging outlook and the increasingly large enrollment from year to year of college and town students. Plans were discussed for the children's class work in theory and cryptography, which starts this week;

also arrangements were made for the teachers to use the new West Side Studio for children in that end of town. This studio will be open next week and is proving very popular.

Miss Lala D. Hay has returned to her old position on the music faculty after a year on leave of absence, during which time she taught piano with great success at the Chicago Train-

The new school of orchestral training just being organized promises to be something long needed in the city as well as in the college. The first rehearsal, which will be a free one, has been announced for Friday evening, Sept. 29th, in Music hall, at 7 o'clock sharp. The object of the school is to lay the foundation of a permanent symphony orchestra. The course is to be made just as cheap as consistent with the expense incurred. The more performers, the less it will cost, so the result of the free registration will have much to do with fixing the price of the course.

At any rate, the cost will not be so much as to prohibit older and more advanced musicians from belonging, if they wish, for the sake of practice and membership in a progressive organization. The course will not conflict with school work in any way, or with membership in other orchestras or bands in the city. To register, all that is required is to give name of player with address and instrument he expects to play; to Mr.
Pearson or Mr. Kearns.

The sheriff would make no demand for troops nor did he take adequate measures to preserve the peace. The sheriff, the report stated, could not have been unaware that an attack on the strip mine was being contemplated.

The state administration undoubtedly realized the acute situation by sending to Williamson county Colonel Hunter of the adjutant general's staff, the report continued, adding that altho Colonel Hunter made several requests for troops the adjutant general denied his authority to send them except upon the request of the sheriff.

The report then declared there was no law limiting the authority of the adjutant general in this regard.

The local police of towns in Williamson county were censured for alleged failure to take proper steps to prevent the disorders.

The Southern Illinois Coal company, which owns the strip mine, was declared to have been "woefully ignorant of the danger of its operations or blindly determined to risk a strike and conflict if the profits could be made."

The report stated it was "foolhardy to attempt to operate a non-union mine in the very heart of the miners' union in view of existing conditions."

Workmen Were Ignorant

"The workmen at the strip mine, the report asserted, 'even were ignorant of being strike-breakers.' The men operating the team-hovel affiliated with a union even though recognized by the American Federation of Labor.

The guards were told they were to protect the valuable machinery and did not awaken to the real danger until noon of June 21 when bullets began to fly into the mine in such volume as to compel the men to take refuge in the office and later to seek safety under the steel railroad cars on the strip mine property.

Superintendent McDowell telephoned a number of times to Colonel Hunter for protection and was invariably informed by the latter that the sheriff could not be located. Finally Colonel Hunter suggested a flag of truce which, while displayed by the mine defenders, caused no abatement of the fire.

The report stated that the grand jury made no attempt to determine the equities between the operators and miners in the strike controversy but confined its investigation to an effort to bring to justice persons who committed the "crimes which brought such universal criticism to the people of Williamson county without discrimination."

The report protested against the intimation that all the residents of this county were "lawless and un-American," adding that the rioters also came from certain other counties.

State's Attorney Duty. Attorney General Brundage and his assistants were commended by the jury for their part in the investigation.

It is planned to have the trials as speedily as possible and the first to be tried, it was said probably will be Otis Clark, the first indicted for murder. Assistant Attorney General Middelkauff will remain here to prepare for the trials.

Circuit Judge Hartwell, to whom the report was made, will sit unless objection is made, he announced.

Arrangement of those indicted by the special grand jury is expected to take place Monday when the October term of court is scheduled to begin.

EXPENSES OF ROCK RIVER CONFERENCE

PRINCETON, Ill.—Current expenses for the past year of the Rock River Methodist Episcopal conference, which will convene here October 3-9, were $594,688, according to the annual report of the conference. Of these $194,093 was paid out in the same period for benevolent purposes ordered by the conference and $887,310 subscribed for benevolent and other purposes.

"During the church year just closed the churches of Rock River conference have shown a large increase in membership," said Rev. F. D. Stone, D. D., of Chicago, superintendent of the Chicago Western district.

"This increase is particularly among the institutional churches where a social and recreational program has been carried on for a period of years. The church looks at this as evidence that the church of today, in order to reach the community and attract it for membership in the church, must present a seven-days-a-week program.

An important project to be discussed at the meeting of the conference is the raising of the old First Church, Chicago, and the construction of a $3,500,000 building which, Methodists say, will be the largest church building, not only in America, but in the world.

Dora Martin of north of the city was a Saturday visitor to the city. Sam Coultas of Franklin paid the city a visit Saturday.

Germany Thru Miss Wadsworth's Eyes

The Germans hate America bitterly and do not want Americans in their country, even as visitors. This is the sentiment voiced by Miss Mary Wadsworth, who has recently returned to her home in Jacksonville after eighteen months spent in Europe. Miss Wadsworth made the trip thru Germany in company with a party of about seventeen Americans and everywhere the members of the party were met with indifference, antagonism and a constant feeling of being unwelcome in the country.

In spite of the depressed financial condition of Germany a traveler is impressed on every side with signs of prosperity. The farm lands are all under cultivation, the crops are good, due to an abundance of rain during the past season, and all over the country there is a great deal of building and construction work being carried on. New houses are being erected, industrial buildings are under construction, and in all the cities many new pavings are being laid. Another very noticeable form of prosperity seen by the visitor is the vast amount of painting that is being done. Miss Wadsworth said that the members of their party were compelled to walk in the streets the majority of the time, in order to avoid the scaffolding on the buildings that are being painted. This year is the first time since the war that paint has been available in Germany and practically the whole country is "painting up." The reason for this apparent prosperity is the fact that the mark is constantly depreciating in value and in order to preserve their wealth the people are putting it into something material, such as buildings and homes, rather than putting it in banks or investing it in bonds.

"As a people, the Germans are bound to have a monarchy," said Miss Wadsworth, when asked how the Germans feel toward the ex-kaizer and the monarchical form of government. Prussia thinks that she wants a republic but the veneration of royalty is so deeply and thoroughly grounded in the German mind that it is evident that Germany will never be a real democracy. The people speak of the places where the kaizer and his family lived, their possessions and their activities, with the utmost reverence, referring to Wilhelm always as "the kaizer," and not as the "ex-kaizer." The ex-kaizer and his sons will never come back to Germany as monarchs, but in Miss Wadsworth's opinion it is possible that a member of the next generation of Hohenzollerns will become the ruler of the country. At present there is much discussion as to the possibility of the Bavarian prince becoming the head of the German government. The Prussians are at sword's points with the Bavarians and look with disfavor upon any attempt of the latter to become a ruling factor in the country.

Miss Wadsworth was in Germany during two weeks in August when the mark depreciated in value at an astounding rate. When the party entered Germany it was possible to obtain 440 marks for an American dollar. In two weeks' time the mark dropped 150 per cent and an American dollar was worth 1,800 marks. The prices could not be raised in proportion to the depreciation in money value for fear of bankrupting the nation, and therefore the Americans, who possessed money at a rate benefited by the drop. The article in the shops, food stuffs, transportation and in fact everything in the country is very cheap and Americans can purchase almost anything at very low prices. As an example of this Miss Wadsworth spoke of a trip from Berlin to Heidelberg, which is a sixteen hour journey clear across Germany. The tickets with sleeper and first class accommodations cost the American members of the party exactly eighty cents each!

All over Germany the Americans were met with utter indifference and they not only were not welcomed, but they were not even asked to leave. The strong undercurrent of hatred is felt. Germany hates America and her people make no effort whatsoever to accord even common courtesy to our citizens. In the shops the clerks were indifferent to the American customers, in the hotels the Americans were given only the most indifferent service, and on the trains American travelers are obliged to stand most of the time owing to the crowded condition of the coaches. The English language is obnoxious to the Germans and Miss Wadsworth said that, when out in public, the members of the American party did not converse among themselves because of the looks and actions of disapproval with which the sound of the English language is met.

There is in Germany an evidence of unrest and agitation throughout the country. People are moving constantly from one place to another, keeping positions only a short time before they move on to another place. The general feeling of restlessness gives the observer the impression that the country is going thru a transitory period, and that the people are just tiding over the time of depression. The Germans do not feel or act as if they had been defeated and they seem to be just awaiting the time when they can strike again at the countries at whose hands they met defeat. The American travelers were met on every side with "hard luck stories." If any of the shop keepers, hotel clerks or waiters could talk any English, they did not lose an opportunity to tell the story of their troubles to the Americans.

This seemed to amount almost to a form of propaganda arranged to "all probability for the benefit of the Americans. Germany's hatred of America is deep-rooted and her desire to strike back at the United States in future years, is evident even to the casual American observer who finds himself unwelcome and unpopular in Deutschland.

In the village of Oberammergau, situated in the foot hills of the Austrian Alps, about one hundred miles south of Munich, the American party met with a feeling of real welcome, experienced at no other place in Germany. This year, for the first time since 1910, the Passion Play was given in Oberammergau and Miss Wadsworth, in company with the other members of the party went to the village to see the play. When the priest gathered the townspeople together and told them that the time had come when they must do all in their power to eradicate the enmity and hatred of the war. To the visitors that came to the city they should show the same love and good will, whether they be friends or enemies. Miss Wadsworth said that the minute the traveler enters the little village he experiences a real feeling of welcome and friendliness, unlike that in any part of Germany. There were 5,000 people in the village for each performance and the guests found entertainment in the homes of the peasants. Miss Wadsworth was entertained in the home of Andreas Lang who took the part of the Apostle Matthew, in the play. He is a young man, a teacher by occupation, and fought in the war.

The passion play has been given once every ten years for over three hundred years to commemorate the deliverance from a plague. It has been twelve years since the last representation because in 1920 the village from the effects of the war failed to present the play. There are five hundred members in the cast and no one may take part in the play unless he is born in Oberammergau. Anton Lang took the part of Christ for the third time and it is now a matter of a great deal of speculation as to who will be the next "Christus." The actor for this role, is chosen by the city elders and the clergy, and is acclaimed the most godly man in the community. No married woman can take a part in the play the part of Virgin being taken by an unmarried woman. The play is a dramatic production of real art and is not as many people believe, a religious fete in which untrained actors participate. During the ten year interim, a religious play is given every summer and in this way the actors are kept in touch with the drama. The rehearsals for the Passion Play begin in October and the play is presented the following summer.

The play is presented on a large stage and in case of rain the play proceeds the same as on a pleasant day. The large amphitheatre seating five thousand people, is roofed. The ceremony of the Passion Play begins in the morning with mass, held in the church, at four thirty and six o'clock. The play itself starts at eight o'clock in the morning and continues without intermission of any kind until twelve o'clock noon. The spectators then go back to the home of their host and have luncheon, returning at two o'clock when the play is continued, ending at six o'clock. Miss Wadsworth said that she has never witnessed a dramatic production of any kind in which there were displayed such beautiful costumes, gorgeous coloring and wonderful acting. The people who present the play do not do so for financial gain. The tickets for the performances are all the same price and are given out to the villagers who in turn give them to their guests. The tickets are of first, second and third class, according to the position in the amphitheatre, and the guests draw their tickets, rich and poor faring alike in securing seats for the play.

Miss Wadsworth has been in Europe for over a year. Fifteen months of the time was spent at Chateau Thierry with Dr. Julian Wadsworth at the Methodist Memorial, a social service center for the French, where Miss Wadsworth was engaged in reconstruction work. Then in company with St. Louis friends she motored thru the French Alps into Switzerland and spent some time at Montreux on Lake Geneva. From there Miss Wadsworth went down into the Italian Lake region, to Milan and Venice, back thru Switzerland and into Germany. The latter part of the itinerary took the party into Holland, Belgium, England and Scotland and in the early part of September they sailed from Liverpool for America, landing at Montreal. In addition to the very splendid work which Miss Wadsworth was privileged to accom-

Tyrus Raymond Cobb Is Still Fighting Hard For Batting Crown

Is Just Seventeen Points Behind Sisler—Hornsby is Far in Front in National League—Hyatt Going Strong in A. A. League—East Cinches Honors in Western League

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, batting champion of the American League for twelve out of fifteen years, may realize his ambition to be crowned with that coveted honor this year.

The Detroit veteran, in his flight to overtake George Sisler of the Browns, today is just seventeen points behind the St. Louis star, but with Sisler out of the game, Cobb has a chance to pass him provided he averages two hits or more for the remaining games of the season and Sisler fails in the role of a pinch hitter.

Sisler's average including games of Wednesday, is .418, compared with a mark of .424 a week ago, a falling off of six points. Cobb is collecting hits to the tune of .391 and is displaying no indications of slowing up as the clubs swing into the final stretch of the race. But Sisler's heart and soul is in baseball, and it is almost an impossibility to keep him out of the game, despite physicians' orders. He insists upon getting into his uniform, even although he does not get into the line-up, so that he may be ready to take a crack at the ball when called as a pinch hitter. This absence from the game may help the "Georgia Peach" in his quest for the batting honors.

Cobb led the American League every year from 1907, with the exception of in 1916 when Tris Speaker of the Indians took the honors and in 1920 when Sisler was crowned king, and last season when Harry Heilmann of the Tigers crowded Cobb out of first place.

Sisler's mark for stolen bases appears to be safely tucked away, as his 47 thefts in 13 better than his closest rival Kenneth Williams, a teammate.

Williams bagged a brace of home runs during the past week and is tied with Rogers Hornsby with thirty-nine for the leadership of the major leagues.

Other leading batters for 100 or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, 376; Heilmann Detroit, 357; Tobin, St. Louis, 331; Galloway, Philadelphia, 330; Pipp, New York, 329; Williams, St. Louis, 325; Veach, Detroit, 324; Schang, New York, 324; Meusel, New York, 324.

National League
Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who for the past two years has carried off premier batting honors of the National League has launched a final drive to boost his 1922 average above the coveted .400 mark.

The St. Louis favorite is on the brink of his ambition, the figures showing him hitting .399. In 1920 he topped the league here with a mark of .370 and last season romped off with the honors with an average of .377.

Hornsby fell into a slump early in August, but when Jimmy Tierney of the Pirates and "Hack" Miller of the Cubs began to threaten, he recovered his batting eye and started to pull away. This drive was started about the middle of August, when he was hitting only .374. He has steadily increased and at the rate he is traveling he will easily reach his goal—the .400 mark.

In the last seven games Hornsby cracked out thirteen hits, three of which were doubles and four were home runs.

Tierney, who has been tagging Hornsby's heels, suffered a slump during the past week, but continues to be the runner up with an average of .372. Miller of the Cubs is in third place with an average of .357. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Max Carey of the Pirates has the base stealing honors easily sewed up for the season with forty-four thefts, his closest rivals being Burns of Cincinnati and Frisch of New York who are tied with twenty-eight.

Other leading batters for 100 or more games: Grimes, Chicago, 351; Bigbee, Pittsburgh, 348; Hollister, Chicago, 344; Harper, Cincinnati, 340; Dabbert, Cincinnati, 339; Carey, Pittsburgh, 334; Young, New York, 334; Walker, Philadelphia, 333; Meusel, New York, 330.

American Association
Going stronger than ever, Glenn Myatt, star catcher with Milwaukee, today has a nine point lead over his rivals in the race for the batting championship of the American Association. As the season draws to a close, Myatt apparently is in no danger of being displaced, as he continues to strengthen his position, instead of losing ground.

In his last six games, Myatt connected with nine hits, which boosted his average to .373, compared with .367 a week ago. Becker of Kansas City, the runner-up in batting .364, which was his average last week. Kirke of Louisville, third in the list, shot his average up to .362, an advance of three points.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City, with thirty-seven homers in his old kit bag, is assured of these honors. Becker, a teammate, is second in home-run hitting with twenty-five. The base stealers, however, are still neck and neck.

Big reduction in Hudson and Essex cars. See R. T. Cassell for particulars.

BROWNS LOSE GAME TO PHILADELPHIA

Are Now Four and One-Half Games Behind—Cubs do no Better Than Tie Now if They Win all and Yanks Lose Remaining Games.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 23.—St. Louis lost to Philadelphia 6 to 5 and dropped to four and a half game behind New York in the pennant race as the Yanks won from Cleveland. The Browns can now do no better than tie the leaders in the remaining games scheduled and to do this they will have to win their four remaining games and New York will have to lose its five games, still to be played. The game was a free hitting affair but in the fourth inning Pruett struckout three Philadelphians after the bases had been filled.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Poor support back of Shedd Smith, former Brooklyn pitcher, who hurled his first game for Cleveland and Uble who succeeded him, enabled the Yankees to win 7 to 6. Successive home runs by Summa and Gardner figured in a four run rally by Cleveland in the fifth when Sam Jones was driven from the box.

Collins Predicts Style of Play in World Series

This the fourth of seven articles written for the Jacksonville Journal by Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox. Collins has played in more world series games than any other major league player.

By EDDIE COLLINS.
World's Greatest Second Baseman.

In spite of the fact that there has been a decided revolution in the game of baseball in the last two years, and that now it's a game of sweat, and hits and runs are of much more frequent occurrence, due, let's say, to simplify to various causes, I am of the opinion the style of play in a world series will always have a tendency to be more along the old conventional conservative lines.

My reasons for this belief are several. In the first place, opponents in a world series do not know each other, individually or collectively as well as they know the teams they combat daily in their respective leagues, and the procedure is consequently slower.

Secondly, players or teams do not take the same chances, to begin with at least, in a world series as they do in a regular game. The series is too short, the risk too great, and not worth it. As a last resort, when other means of making runs have failed, a manager may be forced to attempt anything.

For example, in 1911, when the Giants couldn't fathom the offerings of Bender or Coombs with any degree of success, McGraw started his men on a base stealing crusade. That year, if I am not mistaken, the combined steals of the New York club created a major league record which still stands. But after Jack Lapp had pegged out five in one game, that was stopped, too.

Base Stealing.
Strange though it may seem, base stealing is an art and a practice that's played but a small part in the outcome of any world series.

In the 1921 pre-series predictions the slowness of the Yanks and the fleetness of the Giants was dwelt upon at great length. Whereas the final count showed the Nationals had seven stolen bases to the Americans' six. And I think I am safe in saying the six were better applied and counted for more than the seven.

Just so this year, I would be inclined to attach small significance to the fact that Sisler and Williams of the Browns alone total more stolen bases than the entire Yankee team.

From a fan's standpoint, as well as from a player's, I would be more interested in watching the Browns' style of play in a world series than I would in watching the Yanks. Understand me not that I believe they would be any more successful, but because of the fact that there would be opportunity for a greater variety.

The Yanks' style of play varies but little, they are not hard to outguess, but oftentimes when you know what's coming off, it succeeds in spite of you.

Browns Mix 'Em.
The Browns mix their plays better and oftener—their men more often assume the initiative and pull the unexpected. They are more careful in their play, and make use of their strength to better advantage.

Don't let me give the impression the Yanks are dumb and the Browns vice versa. I have just as much respect for Miller Huggins as I have for Lee Fohl, and regard them both highly as base ball men. But they work along different lines, although arriving at the same ends.

Possibly there is no set style of play that can be followed in a world series, but play must be adapted to conditions. It's the team that can adjust its play to conform with those conditions that has the big edge.

When one method of attack fails, try something else. "Mix 'em up," is the motto I like to follow.

Have the other fellow worrying about what you are going to do, and you'll be a jump ahead all the while.

The edge is what counts in a short series—hustle!

INDIES-DOKAYS PLAY FIRST GAME OF SERIES
Local Aggregations in Tilt For City Championship—Hartman Will Oppose Fryman.

Local fans looking forward with great interest to the opening game of the series between the Indies and Dokays for the city championship.

Both teams are ready for the going and their followers will be out this afternoon in force to root for their favorites. The Dokays have strengthened up for the occasion by the addition of Hartman, Lascoy and Flynn of Springfield.

Hartman is one of the best pitchers working out of Springfield for the past two years and has been the backbone of the pitching staff of the Roodhouse Nationals. Hartman has always had his troubles with the Indies but will try hard to break his jinx this afternoon.

Fryman will be on the rubber for the Indies and everybody knows what the big fellow can do. When he is right no team has any license to beat him and he will work hard to take the first game for the Indies.

Manager Smith received word from Tom Doyle at Murrayville last night that Murrayville and Winchester would not play the second game of their series at Winchester today, not being able to agree on terms. Doyle telephoned to Smith because he thought that local fans might make the trip to Winchester for nothing and also miss the game here.

The teams will lineup in the following order today. The game will be called at 2:45 o'clock.

Dokays—Jones 1b, Shelton 3b, Barnes 2b, Henderson rf, Wood p, If, Gillis cf, Hanes ss, Lascoy c, Flynn, c, Hartman, p.

Indies—Denny ss, Wheeler 1b, Kohloff 2b, Christopher lf, DeFrates 3b, Burkery cf, Hamm rf, Clark c, Fryman p, Zell p.

THREE CHEAP CLASS EVENTS AT COLUMBUS

Only Thing Staged at Getaway Day, 2:16 Pace Having Been Cancelled on Account of Lack of Starters.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—Three cheap class events were all that were staged on today's Grand Circuit card the 2:16 pace having been declared off because of a lack of starters. Wilaska of the McDonald stable was the only straight heat winner taking the 2:13 trot, without dropping a heat. She was first choice with Justissima.

Maloney was never headed in the final mile. Jane The Great placed in the field in the 2:04 trot, won that event after Kilowatts second choice had won the first heat. In each of the last two miles Jane The Great was easily the best while the favorite, Peter Coley never was a contender.

THREE CHEAP CLASS EVENTS AT COLUMBUS

Only Thing Staged at Getaway Day, 2:16 Pace Having Been Cancelled on Account of Lack of Starters.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—Three cheap class events were all that were staged on today's Grand Circuit card the 2:16 pace having been declared off because of a lack of starters. Wilaska of the McDonald stable was the only straight heat winner taking the 2:13 trot, without dropping a heat. She was first choice with Justissima.

After D. W. Maloney an outsider, had won the first heat of the 2:08 pace, he broke in the second mile and narrowly escaped the flag. Wrack, the favorite, winning. D. W. Maloney was never headed in the final mile. Jane The Great placed in the field in the 2:04 trot, won that event after Kilowatts second choice had won the first heat. In each of the last two miles Jane The Great was easily the best while the favorite, Peter Coley never was a contender.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

The current issue of the Farm Bureau News issued to members gives the following paragraphs:

Hessian Fly.
As a result of good team work in the matter of late seeding of wheat, Hessian fly has practically disappeared from the county. Just now there is danger that some farmers will sow before October 1, and thus start a move that will lead to the return of the fly damage. There is no advantage in seeding wheat before October 1, according to carefully conducted experiments. Finally it is not necessary that wheat should make enough growth in the fall to cover the entire ground.

Market for Soy Beans.
The A. E. Staley Manufacturing company of Decatur and the Chicago Heights Oil Manufacturing company of Chicago Heights, Ill., are planning to purchase soy beans to make into meal, cake and oil. In all probability these firms will handle all the beans available. They estimate that beans will bring the grower around one dollar at his home station.

Get Hogs Used to Soy Beans.
Those people who expect to turn hogs in soy beans and corn should be careful to get their hogs accustomed to soy bean plants before turning them in. Otherwise the hogs may confine themselves to corn and forget the beans.
A few days before you expect to begin "hogging" pull up a few plants each day and feed them when the hogs are hungry. You will find they eat them ravenously and you will have no trouble when the hogs are in the field. Neglect of this little precaution may make the difference between your satisfaction and disgust in hogging down soy beans and corn. It has done so with other people.

Soy Beans for Hay.
Soy beans should be cut for hay when the pods are well formed and lower leaves begin to turn yellow. It is considered good practice not to attempt to rake or bunch the beans until they are dry. Rain will injure soy beans lying on the ground very little. When plants have become dry rake them up when the dew is on and put in same as any other hay. Of course exact time for cutting will depend upon whether you have early beans or late beans.

MISS LILLIAN DAVIS WEDS MR CODDING

Impressive Home Ceremony for Prominent Jacksonville Girl—
New Home Will Be Established
In St. Louis.

In a ceremony in which both dignity and simplicity had definite place, Miss Lillian Hall Davis of Jacksonville became the bride of Mr. Nelson M. Coddling of St. Louis Saturday night. The service was solemnized at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John R. Davis, 252 Webster avenue. There relatives and immediate friends assembled to the number of 100, and the gracious hospitality of the Davis home and the prominence of the young people combined to make this a social event of great interest and pleasure.

The house had been very attractively decorated with garden flowers in various colors and the living room, where the ceremony was performed, was made especially beautiful with plants of filmy foliage.

As the guests assembled they were received by Mrs. John R. Davis, Mrs. R. O. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Frey and Mrs. H. P. Cartwright.

Musicians from the College of Music gave a program while the guests were assembling. Just before the hour set for the ceremony, musicians began "To a Wild Rose" and at the same moment intimate young women friends of the bride with satin ribbons made an aisle from the stairway landing to the altar, with its flower and foliage embankment. These young women attendants were Mrs. H. P. Samuell, Mrs. Garm Norbury, Miss Mary Wadsworth, Miss Edith Jordan, Miss Ethel Wilder, Miss Gertrude Ayers, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Dave Utiger of St. Louis and Miss Alma Blumstengel of California, Mo.

At either side of this improvised altar was stationed a stately white candle in a huge brass candlestick. The first member of the wedding party to appear was Miss Rhoda Clark, a cousin of the bride, who moved along the ribboned aisle and lighted the great candles. A more subtle touch of beauty and solemnity could not have been planned.

Then as other members of the bridal party approached came little Paul Rowe Samuel and Ruth Margaret Norbury, each bearing a dainty basket of flowers. They preceded Miss Esther Davis, the maid of honor. As the bride-to-be neared the place of the ceremony she was met by Mr. Coddling and Dr. Joseph E. Harker, the officiating clergyman. Dr. Harker used the ring service and the ceremony was impressive in every detail.

As the members of the wedding party stood about the altar under the subdued light of the candles the orchestra continued the wedding music from Lohengrin and played very softly while the vows were spoken. "At Dawning" (Canon) and "I Love You Truly" (Benedictus) As a finale Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played.

The congratulations of relatives and friends were given and soon afterward, with the Vickers catering, the wedding supper was served.

This bride's gown was of white satin with a graceful touch of red lace and also by way of sentiment a bit of lace that was worn on her mother's wedding gown. It was made on train and the tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Esther Davis, the maid of honor, wore a costume of coral chiffon over silver lace and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons and orchids.

Miss Rhoda Clark's gown was of blue tulle trimmed with silver ribbon. She carried a white candle with a decorative tulle bow and with this lighted the larger candles which had such an important place in the scheme of decorations.

Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kinney, Mrs. Charles W. Brown, Mrs. D. B. Clark, Mrs. Elizabeth Harney, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fay, Mr. Cole Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Levin Clark, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Applebee.

The bride in this unusually pretty home wedding has been absent from Jacksonville for several years, but that fact has not lessened her local intimacies or softened the friendships of earlier years. Not long after graduating from Illinois Woman's College, Miss Davis became interested in social service work and at the beginning of the world war she entered this work actively. After serving with great acceptance with the Y. W. C. A., she afterward entered the government reconstruction service, its application to ex-service men and has made an unusually fine record in this activity.

The greater part of her time has been spent in St. Louis. It was there that Miss Davis met Mr. Coddling, whose home was formerly in Sedalia, Mo. The family holds a place of prominence in that city. Mr. Coddling was accounted as one of the strongest young business men there prior to his removal to St. Louis, where for several years he has been associated with the bond department of the Liberty Central Trust Co. Many handsome gifts gave evidence of the esteem which both young people are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Coddling left Jacksonville on the 9:15 Wabash for a northern trip and after November 1 will be at home at the Westmorland apartments in St. Louis.

Among the guests present for the wedding were: Mrs. R. O. Bowman, of Sedalia, Mo., mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Utiger, of St. Louis; Mrs. H. P. Cartwright, of St. Louis; Miss Alma Blumstengel, of California, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. George Woodall, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grout, Miss Mary Woodall, Mrs. A. P. Grout, William Woodall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woodall, Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lohman, Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prather, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Huffaker, New Berlin.

CORPUS CHRISTI IS TO BE MADE A DEEP WATER PORT SOON

Work Will be Started in a Few Months—
Port Development Association Raises
$100,000 to Aid in the Work—Estimated Cost of Project is Over Five Million Dollars

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW.—There are five players waiting for every available seat around the baccarat and roulette tables in the newly opened gambling Casino in Moscow, where the play runs high from 8 o'clock in the evening until 10 the next morning.

Frequenters of Monte Carlo and the other big European gaming places in the old days when Russian aristocrats went abroad to spend their money, always remember the Slaxs as the most reckless and inveterate of gamblers. A visit to the Moscow Casino today shows that all of the troubles of the Russian revolution have not changed them.

Workmen, roughly dressed, and unshaven, with heaps of ten and hundred million ruble notes in front of them, sit tensely watching the turn of a card at tables where, perhaps, a fashionably dressed girl, unable to get a seat, leans over a workman and asks him to place a bet for her, or proposes that they take the "bank" at baccarat together.

The Corpus Christi Port project is the achievement of years of efforts on the part of local interests; $20,000 was raised for carrying on the work of the association. Meanwhile, the government was making a preliminary survey of the bay and of each place making application for the port. All reports were sent to Washington to the board of engineers. The board was invited to visit all places applying for the designation and visualize what each had to offer. After the engineers' return to Washington, Corpus Christi was given the designation.

In describing the work to be done the report of the army engineers say the plan comprises a turning basin 1,200 feet wide by 3,000 feet long and 25 feet deep east of the city; wharf construction providing at first for berthing space for seven vessels, with ample provision for further expansion; the necessary mechanical equipment, fire protection, storage tracks, and motor truck roadways; the extension of the partly constructed city breakwater in front of the exposed face of the harbor; a lift bridge carrying the highway and the San Antonio & Aransas Pass railroad track across the entrance harbor and a levee between the harbor and Nueces Bay; and a channel 200 feet wide and 25 feet deep with widened places for passing, connecting the terminal with deep water at Port Aransas. The total estimated cost is $5,051,900, and $220,000 per year for maintenance.

MRS. TANDY HOME DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Attended Sessions of the International Association of Rebekahs at that Place—Association Was Granted Charter by Sovereign Grand Lodge.

Mrs. Myrtle W. Tandy returned from Detroit, Mich., where she attended the sessions of the International Association of Rebekah assemblies. Mrs. Tandy was advanced to the office of vice president of the organization at the Detroit meeting.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows held its sessions at the same time. One of the most important pieces of legislation adopted by that body was the chartering of the International Association of Rebekah assemblies.

For many years the members of the Rebekah association have been working for this recognition and they are greatly pleased that the Sovereign Grand lodge has granted it.

Detroit had planned fine entertainment for the visitors. One of the features was a boat excursion to Stag Island located in Canada where a picnic was held. This island is owned jointly by the Odd Fellows, Masons and Knights of Pythias.

A big parade also was held in which 48 bands participated. It took the parade two hours to pass the reviewing stand.

For some years efforts have been made to have the Sovereign Grand lodge pass a law to permit the admission of boys to the Odd Fellows at the age of 18 years. At the session just closed an auxiliary was formed which boys from the ages of 14 to 21 are permitted to join. Membership in this will entitle one to membership in the subordinate lodge when 21 years of age. One of the degrees in this auxiliary mothers of the boys are permitted to witness.

What's the Matter With the Retailer?

Roger Ballou Proposes a Constructive Program

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 23, 1922.—"Any reduction in the cost of living must come thru better distribution rather than cheaper production," says Roger W. Ballou in discussing the business outlook.

"It's strange how we concentrate on saving the pennies and let the dollars slip thru our fingers. The officials of every manufacturing company in the country are hunting frantically for new ways to cut down the cost of production. They lie awake nights over a few cents an hour on labor or an extra dollar or two on a ton of coal, or any other factor which may affect the cost of making this product. Once the goods are made and out of the factory their efforts cease. The job of getting their product to the ultimate consumer belongs to someone else.

"All of us have become so engrossed with the problem of cutting down the cost of production that we have let distribution take care of itself. We have saved millions at the expense of the consumer. The amount of goods produced in the United States has increased probably ten times over. Number of workers necessary to produce those goods have increased only about two and a half times. This means that owing to new machinery and better methods, the average worker today is able to turn out about four times as much goods in eight hours as the worker fifty years ago did in ten or twelve hours. Allow for cost of the machinery, fuel, etc., and even then you find the average unit producing cost today is less than half of what it used to be. In production we have made wonderful progress, because we have given most of our thought and effort to it."

"Turn to distribution and we find no such progress. In fact, the percentage cost of distribution probably has not been reduced at all. With twice the production per worker we should expect that the wages for a day's work would buy twice as much goods as it used to. If distribution had been improved as much as production, a day's wages would buy four times as much as it did fifty years ago. We all know that no such increase has taken place. In fact, it is debatable if the average family today even has again as well off as it used to be.

"This does not mean that the retailer or the jobber or the carrier are hogging the difference. It means to a large extent that we have not developed our tastes so as to get the most for our money. It means that we have not educated the retailer and other distributors to most efficient methods of handling merchandise. In short we have not made the same progress in distributing goods as we have in their actual production."

"We have been devoting our efforts to building better factories, to getting a greater output from labor, to putting out more and better goods.

"We have done very little toward the equally important problem of getting those goods to the ultimate consumer. The government is spending over $100,000,000 a year in research to help the manufacturers and farmers, but it has never even taken a census of the retailers. Hundreds of men are employed gathering information on the crops. Hundreds more are experimenting in chemical research for means of fighting pests and blights which destroy crops, and instructing the farmer in their use.

"Similar work is being done for the manufacturer to help him find more efficient methods of production. A complete census of manufacturers is taken every five years, which shows the number of firms in each industry, their production, costs and profits. These things, of course, cost money but they are worth it. They are largely responsible for the fact that the U. S. stands head and shoulders above any other country in the efficiency of its production. There are any reason why we should not spend at least as much to help the retail distributor on whom we must depend to get those goods to us?

"So far most people have been content to point to the growth of the chain store and co-operative selling movements as indicating the short comings of the individual retailer but the crying need of the hour is that we all get behind the retailer and help him. If his methods are wrong it is our fault and it is up to the rest of us to show him a better way. He sells at least 85 per cent of all the consumers' goods bought in the United States; he has more than a million stores in the country representing an investment of billions of dollars; in short, the individual retailer today is our main vital artery of distribution.

"Many people thoughtlessly say, 'Do away with the individual retailer. Let the chain store or the co-operative association take his place.' Anyone who studies the problem, however, must realize the shortsightedness of such a plan. Both the chain store and the co-operative association are all right, but would we care to give any single organization a monopoly of our distribution?"

"Then there is another phase of the retail situation for which you and I as consumers are to blame—the truth is we have grown lazy. We want our foods brought to the door, we want to get charge accounts, we want to have a wide variety of styles and grades of goods to pick from. When our wives select a pair of shoes they insist upon having twenty different lasts to choose from. When we buy sugar we prefer to have it come in a paste-board box of the particular size which best suits our fancy; and so on thruout the line. But these things cost money. They are nice but they are essential? If we knew we could get good shoes for 25 per cent less, would we not be willing to do with a smaller variety to choose from? Certainly we should not grumble over the high cost of living, while we continually demand service which is increasing the cost of the things we buy.

"The day is coming when this problem of distribution will be worked out. Just as the development of our producing machinery has taken years, so the development of the best distributing methods must take years to complete. Such changes come about gradually. Right now, however, there are three things we can do to help solve the problem and cut down the retail price.

(1) Urge the government to extend its services to the retail field so that the retailer can have the same statistical information and the same assistance from scientific research as the producer now enjoys.

(2) When buying, select popular grades of goods and avoid freakish styles. Encourage simplification of merchandise. Pay cash for your goods and if possible carry them home yourself. Don't insist upon ridiculous exchange privileges.

(3) Select one good retail store which will give you reliable service and stick to it. By this I mean take one grocery store, one meat market, one clothing store, etc. As long as the store you have selected gives you good service stay with it and boost it. If consumers will follow this policy they will automatically build up the desirable stores and eliminate the inferior retailers who now are sustained only by a careless, transient trade.

"I know that many people are saying hard things about the retailer take now. Much of the criticism, however, comes from those who do not understand the facts. Many retailers have been short-sighted in this period of readjustment. They have hesitated to take losses in order to keep pace with lower replacement costs. We, however, only do ourselves injury by careless and destructive criticism.

"The retailer has had tremendous problems not the least of which have been the knocks we have given him. Most retailers are stumbling along, dazed by the rapid changes in conditions and blindly fearful of what the next season will bring forth. At present, we are on the very eve of a general business improvement, but the retailer is not in a mental attitude to prepare for it. He should be going into the fall business like a fighting cock, but instead his attitude is fearful and defensive. He should be laying in a large stock of goods to meet the increased demand and guard against a shortage later this fall. It is up to us to get behind him and encourage him. Let us cease destructive criticism and turn our efforts toward building up the retailers who are giving us the most efficient service. Quit roasting and try boosting!"

GAMBLING SPIRIT IS RUNNING HIGH THESE DAYS IN RUSSIAN CITY

Moscow Residents Playing for Millions in Russian Rubles—Minimum Bet in Some Cases is 50,000,000 Rubles—Is About $12 in American Money at Present Exchange

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 23.—Work on making Corpus Christi a deep water port probably will be started in a few months, according to officers of the Corpus Christi Port Development Association. About $100,000 has been raised by the association to help the county carry out its pledges to the federal authorities.

The Corpus Christi Port Development association recently was organized to help the county carry out its pledge to the government for the designation of the deep water port. The official designation of the port already has been made and the work now only awaits the inclusion of the first appropriation in the rivers and harbors bill and action by local interests, which had been assured the government.

Foreigners wonder where the players get their money. Persons whose appearance suggest their readiness for the vagrancy court or the poor house, dig heaps of Russian ruble notes, foreign currency and even gold coins out of ragged coats, and lose or win billions without outward appearance of elation or discomposure.

The "big play" at baccarat is confined to one room, barred to all those except actual players. Here the minimum bet is 50,000,000 rubles or, at present rates, about $12 in American money. From this minimum banks are frequently built up many billions of rubles, equal to several thousand dollars. At the other tables the minimum bet is 10,000,000 rubles, or two and a half dollars, and these tables are in the open, with scores of anxious spectators crowding about those lucky enough to get places.

The roulette wheel is operated only for one hour each night, and here the maximum bets range from 3,000,000 rubles on a single number to 30,000,000 on a color. The wheel has two zeroes, instead of the usual one at Monte Carlo, and the profits of the "house" at roulette are, in proportion, twice those which the Monte Carlo gamblers reap from their wheels.

At least $200,000 changes hands nightly at this casino, for the "house," in taking five per cent from each baccarat pot, reaps an average of about $10,000 a night. Recently one night's takings were 69,000,000 rubles. Prices that shock even hardened American tourists are demanded for refreshments served by the waiters while the play is on. A package of ten cigars of a well known but very cheap brand, selling in England for the equivalent of ten cents bring six million rubles or a dollar and a half, while a small bottle of soda water is served at the equivalent of seventy-five cents.

Practically all the gains of the house go to the government for relief of famine sufferers or other worthy cause.

PROMINENT WHITE HALL MAN DIES

John R. Singleton Passed Away After Long Illness—White Hall Man Discusses Strike With R. R. Officials.

White Hall, Sept. 23.—John Singleton, one of the leading business men of White Hall, died at 8 p. m. Thursday, following an illness with a complication of diseases covering several months, part of the time being a patient in a Jacksonville hospital. Every effort to alleviate the ravages of disease were unavailing, and for the past few weeks the end has been expected.

Mr. Singleton was a native of White Hall, son of the late John Singleton, a pioneer citizen. The deceased was born October 17th, 1863, and he would have been 57 years of age next month. On attaining manhood he spent about three years in the train service of the Burlington at Beardstown, in which service he suffered an injury that resulted in the loss of a leg. It has often been remarked that this unfortunate incident was a blessing in disguise, for in 1900 he began a business career that at his death was at the front rank in local business circles.

In 1890 he and Miss Eva Singleton were married, and she and one son and a daughter survive, the son being John Jr., who has for some time been in complete charge of the business with an adaptability that speaks for its continued success. The daughter is Miss Dorothy, at home. Deceased was a member of all

SEPTEMBER NOCTURN

The titles of sleep arise
From vales of dusk, and low
Hangs in the murky skies
The evening star aglow.

The year has come to this—
And so in truth shall I—
The summer's dying kiss,
And autumn's fragrant sigh.

Beneath the laden boughs
The stillness of dark caves;
The night wind in a drowse
Breathes cool and tepid waves.

Thru mint and rosin-weed
Soft-footed down the grove
And off across the mead
The scented zephyrs rove.

A lonely moth flits by,
An owl mourns from the pine,
The stars so heavenly high Indifferently shine.

The moon in solemn state
Cloud-veiled peeps o'er the hem
Of somber greenwood, late
To join the requiem.

The summer's dying kiss,
And autumn's fragrant sigh—
The years all come to this,
And so at last shall I.

—JOHN KEARNS.

organizations that in any way stood for the progress of the community. His fraternal connection included the I. O. O. F., the K. of P. and the M. W. A. In the former he was affiliated with all three branches, the subordinate, encampment and the Rebekah. These organizations will attend the funeral in a body at 10 a. m. Monday in the Catholic church, the services being conducted by Father Shield. The burial will be in the White Hall cemetery. The local business houses will close during the funeral hour in honor of this successful business man.

To Give Play at Hillview
J. Russell Anderson, director of Anderson's Players, announces that his company has about completed its rehearsals of "Tomorrow," a four-act comedy, that will be presented in October, probably at Hillview, as the opening attraction by this local aggregation of amateurs. The cast of characters includes: Marion Lynne, Ruby Lister, Molly Briggs, Lucille Edwards, Toots Bradford, Edna Howard, Jim Sanders, J. Russell Anderson, Pat Ryan, Paul Smith, Joe Lynch, Henry Castleberry.

Recalls the Day
The most unexpected incidents occasionally lead to interesting results, and here is related one that possesses the human interest element to a large degree. Albert Hatfield, formerly of White Hall, has a run on the Burlington between St. Louis and Rock Island and he is very considerate about gathering up papers from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Davenport, Peoria and other points, dumping them off at the White Hall tower for his friend whom he knows to be engaged in news correspondence to some extent.

Recently he threw off a copy of the Des Moines Register that contained a large group picture under the caption "Do these pictures revive memories?" A closer inspection proved they did. It was a picture of the Albia, Iowa, base ball team of 1892. N. E. Kendall, now governor of Iowa, was second baseman, and the catcher was none other than our native son of White Hall, W. G. Ebey. That was thirty years ago, and it has served to emphasize the passing of the years among that group of home boys with which Ebey moved.

This find served to heighten interest in an exchange of correspondence between Ebey at Hamlet, N. C., and the writer that was mainly concerned in the strike situation. Both were agreed as to the merits and demerits of the controversy, and the exchange was a study of conditions then prevailing that evidently had some value in arriving at just conclusions. The matters and things therein contained were referred by Mr. Ebey to his personal friend, W. G. Bierd, then president and now receiver of the Chicago & Alton railroad. Mr. Bierd then addressed the White Hall writer in a most commendable manner, in the course of which he said:

A Letter From Mr. Bierd
"I have always been, am now and always will be greatly interested in any man and his views and opinions who thinks as you do and writes as you do in your letter to Mr. Ebey. Therefore I want you to know that I appreciate your views very much, for the success or failure or absolute destruction of labor organizations, the success or failure of the American railroads as a transportation system, the success or failure of your profession and my profession depends upon sound reasoning and sound judgment of men in all branches of the service. And such views as you express in your letter are available, and must be the prevailing views of the majority sooner or later, or these interests will go on the rocks. When they do, and whichever way it may go, if it not properly adjusted, this country as a whole will receive a shock that it will not recover from for many years."

Perry White has returned from a visit to Detroit, Mich.

SWEDEN'S REVENUE FROM LIQUOR IS $32,000,000
Stockholm—Sweden's revenue from liquor trade during 1922 will be over 121,000,000 kronor, or more than $32,000,000, according to official reports just published by the liquor control board. One of the arguments used by Sweden's 'wet' in the recent prohibition referendum in Sweden, which resulted in a victory for the anti-prohibitionists, was that in case Sweden went dry there would be a heavy loss of revenue from liquor taxes, and that other commodities might have to be taxed to make up the deficit.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE
NOTES

Among the 140 students registered in the freshman class this year at Illinois College are 25 students who enter from the Jacksonville High School. They include the following: Elliott Arnold, Albert Arter, Allen Biggs, Bernard Camin, Mary Jeanette Capps, Anna Belle Drury, Frank Drury, Lee Henry Goebel, Charles Hopper, Malcolm Hulet, Margaret Johnson, Maurice Johnson, Walter Kuppler, Josephine Milligan, Thomas O'Brien, Edith Putnam, Mabel Rogers, Sarah Russel, Gladys Ruyle, Vernon Scholfield, Elizabeth Scott, Helen Turner, Catherine Wilson, Clarence Wilson, and Homer Wilson.

Other towns which are represented by larger numbers of students in the College are Pleasant Hill, represented by six; Divernon by five; Illinois by five, and Carrollton and Palmyra by four each.

As the years go by the College is also drawing from a wider extent of territory. In the student body this year the following states are represented outside of Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, Texas and Wisconsin.

The seating capacity of the chapel is entirely inadequate to accommodate the students now enrolled in the College. It is possible that the girls' room may have to be added to the chapel in order to provide adequate accommodations. Nearly a hundred students are enrolled in freshman chemistry and about the same number are registered for freshmen English. As soon as the large lecture room on the second floor of Sturtevant is completed, the congestion will be somewhat relieved.

George G. Waite '89, formerly of Lincoln, Neb., but now residing in California, was a visitor in the city during the past week.

Dean Emeritus F. S. Hayden delivered a very forceful address in chapel Friday morning, taking as his theme Robinson's "A Mind in the Making".

The College Y. M. C. A. expects to put on a membership drive Monday morning.

E. Bentley Hamilton '92 of Peoria, the recently elected president of the General Alumni Association of the College, was in the city Saturday on business connected with the Alumni Association. A number of alumni and a couple members of the faculty met with Mr. Hamilton for luncheon at the Dunlap House to talk over the preliminary plans for launching the proposed Alumni Quarterly. Henry C. Caldwell '17 has been selected for the position as editor-in-chief of the periodical.

The sad news was recently received of the death of Edward Lanphier of Springfield, the son of Robert C. Lanphier, who is a member of the Board of Trustees of the College. Young Lanphier was a senior in Yale College and led his class at the time of his graduation from the Springfield High school.

The girls of the College Y. W. C. A. are making their plans for the annual reception to the new girls at the home of President and Mrs. Rammelkamp Monday afternoon.

The College is greatly indebted to Mr. W. D. Doying for a gift of valuable law books, a number of old Rig Vedas and also for a set of cases to contain the large collection of half-tone cuts belonging to the College.

Word has been received at the College that Bryce Whisler '19 is an instructor in the Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., this year.

Fred W. Bray '20, who is assistant cashier in the Stockmen's State Bank at Medicine Bow, Wyoming, is also attending the University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyoming, taking Post Graduate work there in the Department of Modern Languages.

Jane Ninde, 19, a niece of Mr. Minger, is also studying in the Post Graduate School of the University of Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Decker of the class of '20 were visitors at the chapel exercises Wednesday.

President George M. Potter of Shurtleff College was a visitor on the campus Wednesday morning.

Charles M. Capps '20 has completed the engrossing of the names on the permanent record of the subscribers to the New Endowment Fund. The work has been beautifully executed and any friends of the College who are interested to see the book may find it at the College Library.

A large beautifully framed picture of views of the College is on exhibition at the Shreve Drug Store on the west side of the square. The pictures were taken and arranged by Mollenbrock and McCullough. It is the intention of the College to use the pictures for exhibition purposes.

WAIT!

For the JORDAN Announcement NEXT SUNDAY

To The American People:

May I ask you to wait just seven days before placing your order for a Jordan enclosed car?

We will make a very unusual announcement in all of the leading newspapers next Sunday.

It is most gratifying, of course, to find every Jordan dealer's sales floor bare of cars at this time but it makes necessary your indulgence until further shipments can be made.

Jordan sales have been more than tripled this year but we must not increase production so rapidly as to endanger quality and service.

Our future depends upon our constantly building a better car and giving to the public such prices as increased volume warrants.

Next Sunday's announcement will make clear this extraordinary request.

In the seven days intervening it will please us to have you act upon the following suggestion.

Do not call upon Jordan dealers or salesmen during the next seven days except for the information I specify.

Just phone, give your name, and ask the dealer to send you a list of five, ten, fifty, five hundred or a thousand Jordan owners.

They all have lists ready for mailing.

Then write, telegraph, telephone or call upon any Jordan owner or group of owners, asking any one or all of the following questions.

Would you advise me to buy a Jordan car?

Is it a more satisfactory car than any you have driven before?

How many Jordans have you owned?

Have you ever known Jordan to cut the quality when the price was reduced?

How does the final cost compare? I mean of course, list price, plus service expense, plus the second hand market depreciation.

Is the Jordan good looking? Comfortable? Economical?

Is it easy to handle? Well balanced? Quiet?

Is it durable? Does it perform well?

Does the dealer render satisfactory service?

Get the answers to these questions.

Meanwhile remember that you will eventually drive an enclosed car.

Make up your mind to read the Jordan announcement in next Sunday's papers.

We know we will meet many new friends on Monday morning, October Second.

Jordan owners, I know, will be happy to introduce you.

Cordially yours,

Edward Jordan

Market Report

By The Associated Press

PRICE OF WHEAT BROKE SHARPLY
CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Wheat broke sharply today as a result of news from abroad which told of a more favorable political situation and because of a decline at Liverpool. There was general selling at the start and some stop-loss orders were caught on the way down. The finish was weak at a net loss of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 with December $1.06 1/2 to 1.06 and May $1.10 to $1.10 1/2; corn was off 1/2 to 1 1/2; oats declined 1/2 to 1 1/2 and provisions were unchanged to 6 1/2c higher.

Cable news and trade reports were of a more peaceful nature. England was rumored to have made concessions to the Turks, which would practically eliminate all chances of a conflict. This caused some heavy selling of long wheat by the "war" bulls and pressed downward before the demand because broad enough to absorb the offerings. There was some good buying on the breaks which tended to check the declining tendency and toward the first week-end evening up by shorts gave the market a slight upturn.

Corn and oats were affected by the action of wheat and averaged lower, although the inside figures were not maintained, as local sentiment was inclined to the bull side and on the breaks numerous small buying orders were brought out.

Provisions averaged higher with renewed buying of nearby deliveries of lard by leading packers.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

The enterprising editors of the College Greetings surprised the students and faculty by having an extra edition ready for distribution at the first chapel exercises at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The extra is full of ideas of especial interest both to the new, as well as to the old students. It is a good indication of the splendid numbers that will follow.

The first chapel exercises were held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The regular order of exercises was followed. President Harker spoke very briefly both to the faculty, students and friends that were present. Madam Toft-Colord made her first appearance as a vocalist and was much appreciated for the delightful group of songs that she rendered.

The heavy registration is especially gratifying to the college authorities. It is an indication of the good work which is being done in all departments and the increasing recognition of the high standards of the college. With students that are yet to come, the registration will be over 280 in the next few days.

One of the live organizations of the college is the Town Girls' club.
With thirteen new high school students entering from the Jacksonville high school, the club met and organized for the year's work. The following officers were elected: President, Eleanor Jane Dinsmore; Secretary and Treasurer, Myra Whitlock; Social Chairman, Myra Chiles; Athletic Representative, Elson Pires; Member of Executive Board of Student Association, Katherine Randle.

Mr. S. L. Miller of the Caldwell
Engineering company and R. V. Brokaw, County Health Officer, were at the college Friday night and spoke to the house students of the way in which the water supply is safeguarded and made pure.

A pleasant feature of the college life this year is the establishing of a modest cafeteria where lunches may be obtained during the noon hour by students and faculty who reside outside the buildings. The noon recess period being only forty-five minutes, this innovation is greatly appreciated and is liberally patronized.

Rev. C. D. Robertson was the speaker at the chapel exercises Saturday morning. He is planning to conduct a Sunday school class for college students at Centenary church.

New and old students enjoyed an old fashioned hare and hound race Thursday night. They left the college about 6:45 and after following many devious paths the hounds caught the hares east of the city limits. Marshmallows were roasted and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed.

Miss Dorothy May Smith is the dietitian in charge of the college diet kitchen which is operated in connection with the infirmary. Miss Smith will complete her college course at the end of the first semester, although her degree will be conferred at the regular commencement season.

Grace Harris of the Class of '20 is now employed by the Beloit Young Woman's Christian Association as Assistant Secretary in charge of the gymnasium work and all physical activities in connection with the work of the Beloit Association. Miss Harris had all her physical work at Illinois Woman's college and is another student who is making good in this chosen profession.

Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Mildred Owens of Pana to Professor Edson Wright Wisley of Terre Haute, Indiana. Miss Owens was a Freshman of the Class of '24.

It Is Accuracy

Accuracy with which our tailored-to-measure clothing fits

Nash Even Builds Bearings

Among all motor car manufacturers,
Nash alone builds all the roller bear-

These bearings have been subjected to the most severe breakdown tests that engineering can devise to prove that they are of unequalled quality and workmanship. No better illustration could be cited to prove the conscientiousness of Nash manufacture.

A Fine Car Made Finer

Announcing the Jewett Special—$1095

The Jewett Special is now ready for your inspection and once again we promise you a genuine surprise.

Here is a touring model of this sturdy Paige-built 50 horsepower Six that without doubt you will declare is as smart in appearance as anything you have yet seen on the road.

That will be your first impression. Then examine the car closely.
Observe the nickel radiator, the beautiful moleskin gray finish on body and hood. Note the disc wheels with demountable rims and outside valve stem—a factor of both beauty and safety. Then examine the special Spanish hand-crushed leather upholstery, gray in color to harmonize with the body.

When you have finished checking up the numerous features of this beautiful and distinctive car, then will come the pleasantest surprise of all—the price—only $1095 f. o. b. factory, just $100 more than the standard job.

At that amazing figure there is nothing on the market today that approaches the Jewett Special in beauty, equipment or value.

GREAT MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS EXPECTED

Babson Sees Great Opportunities for Municipalities

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 23, 1922. Roger W. Babson this week issues a warning to cities and towns to get busy on their municipal improvements immediately. His reasons are as follows:

"A revolution is to take place in city government during the next decade. The automobile is to have as great an effect on living conditions as the sewing machine had on weaving. As the mill has taken the place of the home spinning wheel, so the suburb is to take the place of the city for residential purposes. Tremendous movements from the city to the suburbs may be expected during the next few years. Wise cities will begin to immediately prepare for this great suburban development, which, in many cases, will mean the extension of city limits.

"Such a revolution in living must result in the extension of water plants, expansion of sewerage systems, and a tremendous era of new road building, home building and other improvements. This will cause a great demand for carpenters, masons, plasterers, and common labor of all kinds. The building boom has not yet reached its height. Every feature connected with building, from the supplying of the raw materials to the furnishings of the home, should prosper for the next year or two. This is the real reason why certain forms of labor is scarce today and why certain building materials and commodities are strengthening in price. It is the real reason why the mine operators of the Central States and the mill owners of the Eastern States have been obliged to take back the workers at the old wages. It is this emigration from the city to the suburbs which has changed the labor market. Of course, labor leaders claim credit for checking wage cuts, but it clearly is not due to them. Henry Ford's flivvers are causing this demand for homes in the suburbs, and the consequent demand for mechanics, carpenters, and common labor.

"Wise are the cities and towns that take advantage of these new conditions. Those city fathers who do not, will miss a great opportunity. Moreover, the time is now especially propitious for municipalities to capitalize this great movement. Money rates are low. There is a good demand for municipal bonds. The Federal Income Tax and state and city taxes are especially favorable to municipal borrowing. How long cities will have this advantage I do not know, but the situation certainly should be seized while it lasts. Nothing helps a city so much as good paving, a splendid water supply, proper sewerage, and, of course, good schools.

"This especially applies to the Southern cities which have not in the past had the available funds that some of the Northern cities have had. Great opportunities present themselves to those cities that are to benefit from river improvements, flood protection, and other natural problems. New Orleans, is an illustration of a city which should take advantage of this present opportunity of low money rates in paving its streets and developing its suburbs.

"During the next ten years we will witness a great municipal race,—yes, a great municipal Marathon race. The cities which are now behind will have an opportunity of getting in the front ranks; while some of the cities now in the front ranks will drop back into the lower places. The result of the race will depend upon the vision of those who direct the affairs of these cities."

Three changing conditions are already evidenced by the Business Barometer Figure of the Babson chart which has reached to 7 percent below normal. I expect this sub-normal condition to soon disappear. Wise are the cities which plan their improvements and make their contracts while business is still below normal.
